My Notes | Previous | Next

Many online courses are organized through use of a Learning Management System (LMS). At SLIS, we currently use ANGEL. (ANGEL is an acronym for A New Global Environment for Learning. That's why you'll usually see it in all caps.) Most courses have an ANGEL site in which students can interact with other students and with their instructors. The course site provides access to course materials and tools to facilitate communication and grading. In this module, we'll look at some of the tools in ANGEL.

Click on each of the items below to proceed through the module and complete the assignment.

- Objectives
- Lecture: Connecting with others through the LMS
- Activity: View the course roster
- Activity: Use the discussion forum
